GroundSpan^SM Partners With Concur to Deliver Unique Online Booking Solution for Corporate Ground Transportation

March 6, 2012 – GroundSpan^SM announces integration of its ground booking tools with Concur, a leading provider of integrated travel and expense management solutions. Through expanded capabilities on the Concur Connect platform, Concur clients now have a comprehensive ground booking solution to supplement their existing online travel programs. Because of Concur's partnership with GroundSpan^SM, Concur clients can now book their corporate preferred executive car/black cars, sedans, limousines and even taxis in cities across the globe.

GroundSpan^SM is an innovative ground transportation technology company offering automated ground booking compatibilities through the leading TMCs, GDS systems and CBTs for more than 2,000 vendors globally. GroundSpan's revolutionary platform is uniquely developed to accelerate the automation of ground transportation bookings.   GroundSpan^SM cohesively integrates corporate ground travel booking and expense management/reporting into a single ecosystem. GroundSpan^SM efficiently funnels ground options from over 2,000 providers in a concise layout that facilitates both product and price comparison. Travel managers and procurement personnel can work with GroundSpan^SM to ensure that their preferred ground transportation providers as well as their traveler's direct choices are highlighted in the display providing guidance, to both travel arrangers and road warriors as they book travel online.

"We are seeing tremendous growth in the amount of travel content being provided to our clients via the Concur Connect Platform. Whether it's ground transportation, hotels, airlines, rail, car rentals or any other provider within the T&E ecosystem, Concur's platform uniquely enables us to deliver a richer travel booking experience to our customers," said Barry Padgett, executive vice president of platform services at Concur. "With GroundSpan^SM, our clients now have the ability to more easily book in-policy chauffeured ground transportation services real-time from leading global travel systems, and have complete visibility into the resulting spend."

"Our focus and mantra is to develop solutions for the industry, designed by the industry, for the benefit of the industry. We are determined to create the world's most comprehensive market place allowing vendors of all sizes and locations to maintain their brand control. At the same time increase their visibility and bookings within their existing and new relationships.   Our global network of executive sedan, limousine, parking, shuttle and taxi providers is one of the most complete in the market today – and our technology has led to innovative and groundbreaking solutions that deliver savings and service enhancements for corporations, TMCs and their suppliers." says Tony Bonanno, President of GroundSpan^SM.

Through the unique solution now available to Concur users, corporations can configure their preferred ground vendors for their employees, ensuring vendor familiarity and proper vendor utilization. Once the reservation is booked, confirmations and itineraries will be integrated into the existing travel agency itinerary for a consolidated summary of all travel components. Travelers have direct online access or through their travel agency to cancel or make changes to a reservation as needed.
